

Innocent looking, long-legged
pubescent body proportions.
Drawing by Gladys Perint Palmer,
Vogue Australia, May 1994

Innocent, child-like, youthful, neotenous features. German supermodel Claudia Schiffer, The Daily Telegraph-Mirror, 1 Nov. 1994

Stages of women's adaption to, and acceptance of, having to be a sex object—from 2 million years ago to the present, and from ages 12-18.

Drawing by Jeremy Griffith © 1989 Fedmex Pty Ltd

Revealing pictures and cartoons about the treatment of women as sex objects, from FREEDOM: The End Of The Human Condition, chapter 8:11B.

www.humancondition.com