

The
cooperative,
loving and selfless
state of IDEALITY
that our instinctive moral conscience
expects us to behave in accordance with

Our condemning
moral conscience

Human-condition-confronting, unevasive, holistic, introspective, thinking-dependent, subjective INDUCTIVE SCIENCE

Human-condition-avoiding, evasive, mechanistic, non-introspective, not-thinking-dependent, supposedly objective DEDUCTIVE SCIENCE

The
competitive,
aggressive
and selfish
state of REALITY
for the upset,
human-
condition-
afflicted
race

Jeremy Griffith's cartoon describing the fundamental difference between Inductive and Deductive science from FREEDOM: The End Of The Human Condition, par. 138.
